Koval's unwavering commitment to justice extended beyond the courtroom. He served as the Director of the Legal Aid Society's Employment Law Unit, where he successfully litigated groundbreaking cases to enhance workers' rights and protect against discrimination in the workplace.

Championing Civil Rights

In 1996, Koval joined the NAACP Legal Defense and Educational Fund, Inc. (LDF) as a senior staff attorney. LDF is a preeminent civil rights organization dedicated to fighting for racial justice and equality. Koval's exceptional skills and unwavering passion made him a formidable advocate for civil rights.

Koval led numerous landmark cases that advanced the cause of civil rights. He argued before the Supreme Court in the historic case of Hazelwood School District v. United States, which upheld the constitutionality of race-conscious school desegregation plans.

Dedicated Public Servant

Koval's unwavering dedication to the public good extends beyond his work in the legal field. He has served as a member of the Cleveland City Council and was elected Cuyahoga County Commissioner in 2010. In this role, he championed progressive policies to improve the lives of his constituents, including initiatives to address economic inequality, promote affordable housing, and enhance public transportation.
